Transform Your Training Business

Stop juggling multiple tools. Manage your entire training business from one powerful platform.

Running a Training Business Is Hard

You became a trainer to help people reach their goals, not to spend hours on administrative tasks

Scattered Tools & Lost Time

Booking on one app, payments on another, client tracking in spreadsheets. You're constantly switching between systems and losing valuable training time.

Manual Communication Overload

Endless back-and-forth texts and emails about scheduling. Reminding clients about sessions. Following up on payments manually.

Revenue Leaks & Package Confusion

Clients forget how many sessions they have left. You lose track of package expirations. Money slips through the cracks.

Flying Blind Without Data

You have no clear picture of revenue trends, client retention, or which offerings actually make money. Making business decisions feels like guesswork.

Skedence Solves All of This

Everything you need to run your training business, working together seamlessly

All-in-One Platform

Scheduling, payments, client management, and analytics in one place. Everything syncs automatically across web and mobile.

Automated Communication

Clients book themselves 24/7. Automatic reminders, confirmations, and payment notifications. No more manual follow-ups.

Smart Package Tracking

Clients see their remaining credits in real-time. Automatic expiration alerts. Every session automatically tracked and billed correctly.

Business Intelligence

Clear dashboards show revenue, trends, and client retention. Export detailed reports. Make informed decisions backed by data.

The Result?

More time training. Happier clients. A business that runs smoothly. All for just $29/month.
